

PRE-MOVE SURVEY PREPARATION

Moving to a new home can be an exciting and stressful experience, that's why at Dad's Moving we believe preparing for a move survey is an essential part of the process. Our pre-move survey consists of an onsite inspection at the customers home which allows us to assess the items to be moved and determine the physical access characteristics of the origin address. During a survey our experienced move consultants will conduct the following; calculate volume and weight of shipment, packing & crating requirements, special handling, disassemble & dismantling requirements, access restrictions. Once all of these factors have been identified our move specialist can prepare a comprehensive quotation.

Here are a few useful tips on how to prepare;

1.) Establish any unwanted items:

Before the survey, decide what items to discard, sell or donate: Take a close look at your possessions and decide what you no longer need or want, this can help reduce the cost of the move and make the process easier. Dad's works with a number of organizations including Childreamers Foundation, Tondo offering a free service to deliver your donated items directly to the charity, giving them a new lease of life. See at the bottom of the page the type of items in need.

2.) Fragile Items:

Identify any fragile or valuable items such as artwork, antiques, and electronics that require special care during the move. Be sure to communicate these to the move consultant during the survey so we can plan ahead and make special packing arrangements.

3.) Heavy & Bulky Items:

It's important to point out any heavy items to the move consultant. This will allow us to plan accordingly and avoid any unexpected surprises on moving day, it will also allow us to make arrangements with our moving counterparts at the destination.

4.) What's in your closet?

An often overlooked area is closet space, be prepared to show our moving consultant the clothing in which you are planning to take so that we can detail the volume of the items and take note of any special packing requirements that may be needed to move the clothes such as hanging rails for formal gowns & shoe wrapping to protect footwear.

5.) Take notes:

During the survey our move consultants will provide a thorough understanding of the move process including; timeline for the move, permits required, inclusions & exclusions of the moving package and any restrictions or requirements needed for the country you are entering. Be sure to take notes and ask as many questions as you need to to ensure you are comfortable with the moving arrangements, timeline & choice of moving partner.
